HOBOS AT WORK! THEY ARE GETTING OWN HOTEL READY

City Donates Six-Story Building and "King" Davis's Subjects Get Busy.

The Hotel De Gink, which is to be the city's latest hostelry for hobos, is being renovated and will be ready for occupancy in two days. The hotel is at the corner of Worth and Centre Streets, in one of the buildings which has been condemned by the city for the beautification and extension of the municipal grounds. It is a six-story structure and, with several others, has been lying idle for months.

While the committee on housing the unemployed and their sub-committees were discussing the proposition there came out of the crowd Jeff Davis, President of the Hobos of America. He told the Mayor and subsequently the Comptroller that if the hobos were given a building they would put it into condition and house and feed themselves. The proposition was tentatively accepted and Jeff started to make arrangements to get the building into shape. One dollar was paid for a tentative

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing that Causes It and the Cough will Stop Itself.

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough, don't proceed to dose yourself with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—heat the inflamed membranes. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 3½ ounces Pinex (30 cents) worth in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used—at a cost of only 34 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "3½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. lease and at noon to-day Jeff called in fifty fellow hobos to clean the six floors and make the Hotel de Gink presentable.

"It's some job," said President Davis with a grin, as he surveyed the floors, thick with dirt, the bent and broken pipes and plumbing, "but that's what we want. We won't be able to flop here for a few days, not until we get this all cleaned up and have it aired and dry. You see, we'll have to wet down the floors, and if we was to sleep on them some of us might get rheumatism or something else. But it'll be just the thing when we get into shape. You know, there's hobos and tramps and bums in the outdoor business. We're the hobos. We want to work, but can't get it. When it's all off with the work where we happen to be then we light out for some better place. Then we fall in with the tramps. We become part of them, but we never get into their ranks. They'd steal our shoes and clothes if they got the chance. They're tramps for all time, until they get down and out. Then they become bums. Tramps won't work and bums can't."

"They call me the King of the Hobos because I've got the record for traveling. I've been around the world twice and across the continent three times. I'm at home wherever I go. I've got a good bunch here. I'm a jack of all trades, but I'd rather be a hobo than anything else. I've been offered good jobs right here in this town, but I want to stay with and help the boys. I come from Cincinnati—but I sold papers on the Bowery and at the bridge when I was a kid."

"Bill Devery staked me to the sheets and I sold 'em in McGurk's Suicide Hall and the Mulberry Street station. I lighted out when I was thirteen and I've been going ever since. But I've observed as I went along, and was able to solve the problem of housing the unemployed out west and I can do it here. We'll clean this place ourselves and we'll fix the plumbing, we'll get beds in here and we'll provide grub for ourselves. We'll have a plan. Some of the hobos can play a chesser out of sight. We have all kinds of members—lawyers, professors, politicians, mayors, lieutenant governors and Yale and Harvard students, who have hoboed it on the road."

"We don't want charity. All we want is a chance to work out our own salvation. We'll meet the city half way and we'll be the rest after we get a start. This hotel, when we get it fixed up, will house 1,100 hobos."

DISBARRED LAWYER IS HELD AS AD SWINDLER

Marvin E. Parrott, Alias John L. Johnson, Put Under $2,500 Bail on Larceny Charge.

Marvin E. Parrott, an ex-convict and disbarred lawyer, was arraigned in the West Side Police Court to-day under the name of John L. Johnson and held in $2,500 bail on the charge of stealing $75 from Charles Wotterman of No. 5 West One Hundred and Second Street. Assistant District Attorney Coleman asked that the bail be made heavy, as there are eight other complaints against Johnson.

In April, 1914, Johnson inserted in The World an advertisement calling for collectors. Wotterman, among others, answered the advertisement. Johnson asked for $75 in cash as security that Wotterman would turn in all his collections. Wotterman produced the money and Johnson disappeared. Wotterman notified The World and this newspaper started after Johnson. His real identity and history were established, but he kept under cover until yesterday, when he was seen in the restaurant of the Hotel Aphor at Ninety-fourth Street and Broadway.

While a hunt was being made for a policeman Johnson fled. He was pursued to Ninety-sixth Street and Amsterdam Avenue by Wotterman and his wife and was arrested there by a policeman.

WITH BABY IN ARMS, HURLS ACID AT MAN

Young Mother Charges Her Victim After False Marriage Deserted Her Twice.

A comely but poorly dressed young woman carrying a thirteen-months girl infant stopped Alexander Szabo, a handsome young musician, at Fourth Street and First Avenue at noon to-day and threw carbolic acid at his face. He threw up his hands in time to protect his eyes, but the fiery liquid burned holes in his left cheek and his neck.

"Your good looks will never fascinate another woman!" screamed Szabo's assailant as he writhed in pain. A policeman arrested the woman, who gave the name of Julia Szabo, and sent Szabo to Bellevue.

"I met Szabo two years ago," she said, "I was married then, but was trying to divorce my husband. Szabo told me he had got me the divorce and brought a man he said was a preacher, and I thought we were married. Our baby was born a year ago last month."

"We were happy until last October, when we moved to Pittsburgh. There he met a married woman and persuaded her to elope."

"I followed him to Detroit, where we were married in jail. Then he told me I was a bigamist."

"He deserted me again on New Year's Day. The overseers of the poor sent me here and I arrived last night."

Every box is de serving of the name it bears.

FAMILY OF SIX BURNED TO DEATH IN HOME

IRONTON, O., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Jennie Duff and her five children, the eldest a girl of eleven, were burned to death in their home east of here early Sunday. It was learned to-day, John Duff, the father, and his wife were awakened by the fire. Mrs. Duff ran to the children, who were sleeping upstairs, while Duff rushed outside for a ladder. Before he could use it the roof collapsed, enveloping the mother and children in the flames.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.
